Logo competition winner - Nancy Lawrie

At the Special General Meeting on 29 November 2014, the FWCAC Logo Competition was announced.

The Corporation needed a logo to be used in corporate imagery and to give the new FWCAC a corporate identity.

The Board of Directors wish to thank all the contributors of entries to the logo competition and congratulate FWCAC member Nancy Lawrie for the winning entry.

The digitised version of this winning artwork was prepared by Dreamtime Public Relations and is featured on the front cover of this report. The artwork has also been adopted as our logo and key imagery of the Corporation.

Elements from the artwork have been used throughout the report and provide a fresh and vibrant visual interpretation of the Corporation's identity.

The image above is a photo of the original artwork. Nancy presented the artwork as acrylic on canvas with the following statement:

"My painting represents the six tribal groups in the Far West Coast (FWCAC) - they are Mirning, Wirangu, Yalata, Oak Valley, Kokatha and the Roberts group.

My painting depicts all the representative groups coming together and working as one to enhance social wellbeing and enterprise gains for all people on the ground of the meeting places; under native title."
